NEXT YEAR'S PROGRAM AT SUNSET SCHOOL

Sunset School is just bringing to a close a very successful year, in which the students have accomplished many things. Although we will be glad to have a vacation, I am sure we will be very happy to return to our school after three months of play.

The program for next year is to be an interesting one. School opens on Tuesday, September fifth. On Monday, September fourth, there will be a Teachers' Meeting. Thursday, November 30th is Thanksgiving day, and this will be a legal holiday; we will also have a holiday on Friday following. December 23rd to January 1st, inclusive, will be the Christmas Holidays. We will have only one week at Christmas, and there will be no Teachers' Institute. The second semester begins on January 22nd. April 23rd to 27th inclusive, we will have Easter vacation. Wednesday, May 30th, Memorial Day, will be a legal holiday.

School will close on the first of June, and by then the present Seventh Grade will have graduated from Sunset School.

—Mary Ann Leininger, 7th grade.

MEET ME AT THE FAIR ON CARMEL'S OWN STREET

The Carmel street fair last September proved such a huge success that another is to be given which holds higher expectations than the last. The proceeds will go to the unemployed. The events of the fair will take place over a larger part of the town than last year, and as a result, take in more people on Saturday, the first day of July.

The feature of the evening will be a whiz of a magician. The young people will be pleased to hear that there will be many new features. "Meet you at the Fair" will soon become a general saying. People who are not so fortunate as to go to the "World's Fair" will find consolation in attending a fair in the quaint little town of Carmel-by-the-Sea. Although our fair may not be so modern, it will of course be "unusual."

The committee responsible for arranging the Fair consists of Mrs. Frances Daniels, chairman; Mrs. Virginia Stanton, Mr. Robert Parrott, Mr. Herman Crossman, and Mr. James L. Cockburn.

Leaving around the first of June, Mrs. S. S. Mather and her son, John, and Mr. and Mrs. James Fitzgerald will move down the Carmel Valley to spend the next three months.

Commencement Week a Busy Time for Eighth Graders

Commencement Week — the time especially devoted to the Eighth Graders—will be a busy one this year. In addition to the Graduation Exercises at 7:45 on Friday, June 9th, there will be several other events of interest to parents and friends of the school.

On Friday, June 2nd, at eleven o'clock in the morning, the Class Play will be presented. This is a highly amusing comedy, to be presented in costumes. The play entitled "The Eighth Grade Looks into the Future" is a clever burlesque on what each member of the class may be doing in the next five, ten and fifty years. Each pupil in the class will have a part in the play.

Thursday, June 8th, will be

Class Day. At an assembly program to be held in the Auditorium at eleven o'clock, the Class Prophecy, Class Will, Class Poem, and Class Song will be presented. —Wickliffe Shackelford, 8th gd.

WOMEN'S INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE OF FREEDOM

The Woman's International League was started during the war by France, England, Ireland, Scotland, Spain, and other European countries. It is entirely an concerns itself chiefly with problems of world peace.

During the past winter the local branch of this organization had many interesting meetings, being entertained by such speakers as Lincoln Steffens, Mr. Robert W. Ritchie, and Professor Gage. The retiring president was Mrs. Hastings of Pacific Grove. Many interesting things are being planned for the next season by the new president, Mrs. Joseph Schoeninger.

Next season the members will divide into groups and have study classes. Meetings will be held at Del Monte, Aftonmar, Pebble Beach, Monterey, Pacific Grove, Carmel and the Highlands. They will study more about peace and freedom.

—Joyce Uzzell, 7th grade.

BIRDS IN CARMEL

Carmel is now a bird refuge. We want people to protect our birds. If you find a helpless baby bird, try to find the nest and put it back. If it is too high for you to reach or climb, put it as near the nest as you can. It causes the mother and father bird much grief to lose their babies. To them it is like a giant killing their child. Help protect the birds!

I suppose that I may claim to be the first Ford Dealer. I not only made cars, but sold them and frequently delivered them myself.

The "drive away" is not new; often I have driven cars from Detroit to towns in Ohio or Indiana or Michigan to make delivery.

There were no good roads in those days, and the people where I drove had never seen a motor car before.

My first really enthusiastic customers were Country Doctors. They were the first to realize the value of dependable transportation to a widely scattered practice.

Even today I occasionally hear from some of those first Ford users.

We had to teach local mechanics how to care for the cars. That is how Ford Service began, which is now found everywhere in the world.

We believed from the beginning that a sale does not complete our transaction with our customer — it creates upon us an obligation to see that our customer's car gives him service. Ford Dealers know their duty to the public in this respect.

I can say of Ford Dealers generally that they have been and are men of character and standing in their communities. Most of them have been with us many years, which indicates that we agree on basic business principles. The Company provides that the methods used to sell the Ford car are consistent with the self-respect of the Dealers who handle it.

The present Ford V-8 is the peak of our 30 years experience.

We have never made a better car. Its eight-cylinder engine is powerful and smooth running. The car is admittedly very good looking and has comfortable riding qualities. It is economical in operation because of advanced engine design and low car weight. It is the fastest, roomiest and most powerful car we have ever built.

THE STREETS OF CARMEL

"Oooh, what a headache," screamed a lady—

"Ah, and what seems to be the matter?" said a chivalrous gentleman—

"You are so kind, but it's this street—how am I supposed to cross—" sobbed the lady—

So—right in Carmel—as in days of old, the gentleman gallantly threw down his cloak—and the lady arrived safely at the other side of the mud puddle.

Carmel is noted for its artistically bumpy streets and sidewalks—and of course, this has not passed the notice of Sunset students, for Katherine Beaton says: "The sidewalks of Carmel are, for the most part, made of dirt, and in some parts of Carmel, there aren't any at all."

Sometimes we can see these very distinguished looking people plowing through dirt almost up to their ankles—

and gaze with supercilious stare and pass with noses in the air."

Here also is Mary Ann Leininger's description of the Carmelites and their untouchable streets: "Since Carmel citizens do not want 'no dern improvements' made on 'their' streets, they are very bumpy—so when you ride along, even the new Fords bump quite a bit."

While Dick Tevis says: "Can you imagine it? About two years ago many people wanted to color the roads of Carmel. Now, many people want to leave the roads as they are—rough and bumpy. Since the depression (remember?) many things have been done to improve the roads so as to give the unemployed work. But—why not smooth the roads? Give the poor cars a chance!"

—Camille Burnham, 7th grade.

BOY SCOUTS OF CARMEL

Better men, better ideals in America, is the aim of the Boy Scouts of America. If the boys of America have a good training today, they will make better men of the future. Many important men of today were Boy Scouts when they were young.

The Carmel Scouts are managed by a troop committee composed of Mr. Herman Crossman, chairman; Mr. Hurd Comstock, treasurer; Mr. Everett Smith, Mr. Otto Bardarson, and the Scoutmaster, Mr. John Neikirk who acts as secretary for the committee. These men plan the activities of the troop.

There is one troop in Carmel, with twenty-four members. There can be as many troops in one city as needed for the boys of that city. The troops are numbered in each district, the Carmel troop number being 86. Each troop is divided into patrols. There are four patrols in troop 86, the names of these being, the Cobra, the Panther, the Flying Eagle, and the Silver Fox patrols. Each has a patrol leader and an assistant.

Mr. Crossman, chairman of the committee, says: "The committee members for troop 86 are united in their wish to give the troop all possible advantages for the coming summer. They further wish to establish the troop on a working basis that will be permanent and will make the troop one of the best in the country. The other committeemen agree with Mr. Crossman."

In speaking of Scout work, George Dorwart who has won the high honor of the "Eagle Scout" says: "I believe that it is to every boy's advantage to join the Boy Scouts of America as soon as he is eligible. It is the turning point in a young man's life, between boyhood and manhood. The Scout activities are most interesting to the boys at this period and they promote good citizenship and moral influence at a time when boys are most in need of it."

—Freer Gottfried, 7th grade.

AN IDEA FOR CARMEL

Why don't the Carmelites make a roller skating rink? It would be lots of fun. They have one in Monterey, and it's a joke just to go out and watch. Imagine the dignified ladies and gentlemen donning skates and ignominiously falling in the middle of the floor while more experienced skaters whirl by so swiftly that we wonder how they ever do it! But, imagine their chagrin when they reach the side and are greeted by a chorus of "How did you like the spill?" or something of that sort! A roller skating rink is just the thing for Carmel! —Katherine Beaton, 7th grade

Student Comment On Carmel's Affairs and Needs

WHAT TO DO ABOUT THE DOG SITUATION

"Hark, hark, the dogs do bark
The visitors're coming to town"

Not long ago we had visitors in Carmel. They were amazed to see so many dogs. Everywhere they went queer looking animals popped up—from Newfoundlands, from pups to grandpaws. Men and women were seen taking their dogs for airings. Frequently traffic was stopped while a fierce battle was waged between two dogs. The question is: are these dogs liabilities or assets to the village?

Bill Welsh comments, "Many people say there are too many dogs in Carmel. This is very untrue because there should be more dogs in every city. They harm no one and bring happiness to many people."

Elaine Bullock has an entirely different idea on the dog situation: "Whoops, I just missed that pooch! Heavens, why don't they stay at home? Dogs certainly don't have to know all the affairs of the town! Then I hear a lady say—yes, honey, I know—I haven't taken you for your airing yet—I must take you out at once."

Eugenia Fulton has an interesting story on dogs: "Whose dog is that?" is not an unusual question to come from an inquiring visitor who is meeting the twenty-third dog she has seen during the interval of a few blocks walk.

"Oh," comes the reply, "to be sure, that is the famous New York artist's dog."

"And that?" queries the visitor as she sees another close in view.

"Oh, that black and white poodle belongs to a Hollywood movie actor." A block farther she spies another, a Russian wolfhound. She is told that "Jack-boy" is the pet of a well-known Carmel poet.

They may be the dogs of artists, writers, musicians, playwrights, or actors, but just the same they are dogs. Why should our townspeople be so worried that the insects will outnumber the human race when their larger competitors, the dogs, have such a stronghold—at least in Carmel.

—Joyce Uzzell, 7th grade.

THE BICYCLE FAD

The "gay nineties" are here again. Instead of ladies on bikes with a high front wheel and a low back wheel, we see ladies on modern ones, dressed according to the latest word in bike costumes. However, these costumes are more sensible than those worn by the belles of the nineties, with their flat hats, big bustles, and leg-o-mutton sleeves. Sun-set children are interested in watching the grown-ups resume

—By Gertrude Toland, Grade 8

this childish sport. Norris Thompson thinks it's being done because the women want to reduce. Eugenia Fulton writes: "A whirl of dust, followed by the sound of a bicycle siren, nowadays often denotes the approach of a group of elite Carmelites. The cycle fad has taken in the town, and it is reported that many of our most dignified townsfolk have taken their children's bikes to ride with their friends."

SAVE MY TREES!

"Save my child" has been replaced with "Save my trees." This is what the people of Carmel are calling. The difficulty is that Carmel is being infested with worms! It is a regular migration. No longer can you rest under the Spreading Oak Tree. You will wake from your slumber to find numerous bugs crawling over your reclining form. It would amount to a vast sum to have your trees sprayed for four times a month. Will this Barbarian invasion never end,

—Billy Wheeler, 7th grade

A PLEA FOR TENNIS COURTS

A resort town without one public tennis court! What is going to happen to our Carmel—posing as a sports-loving vacation hang-out, but not having a single one of the most essential objects of such a town. "We want beer!" What are our citizens thinking of? They want tennis courts!

Several students have expressed their opinions on the subject. Dick Tevis says: "What is the matter with Carmel? Do all the people visiting here have to go to Monterey to play tennis? After all, the people who come here in the summer come for sports. They probably find it hard to have to go out of town for such an essential part of their vacation amusement." Patty Ball says: "The majority of Carmel people know how to play tennis. Therefore we should provide public courts for them. Carmel is really a town for sports and we should encourage them as much as possible. We should consider also the summer vacationers who also wish to gain what exercise they may in Carmel."

Eugenia Fulton.

STRAY THOUGHTS

"Gopher Dick" of the reptilian age—Imagine the surprise of our respected physician, Dr. David Matske, when he saw this book was dedicated to him: "Dr. David Matske, M. D. A true man, friend and pal, at Carmel-by-the-Sea, California.—Snap Nelson."

Mr. Curtis, Carmel candy and ice cream man has been wearing down the streets in hope of finding prosperity "just around the corner!"

Goodness Gracious! Our village bookworm has resorted to digging for worms in good old Mother Earth. Whenever she has a free day, you may find Miss Berry attending to worms and other garden matters.

—Lee Van Atta, 6th grade.

THE MAYOR'S RATTLESNAKE

As I was going past Mayor Catlin's place one day, my friend said, "We'll stop and ask the mayor to tell us about his pet rattlesnake." When we got there we asked to see the snake. His story went like this:

"Well, I have a rattlesnake that dislikes blondes. He only goes out at night. So please don't you go out and disturb him."

I suppose he doesn't know I was once a blonde."

—Barbara Haasis, 7th grade.

OUR TREES

I used to have to go down to the beach to see the sea. Now what a difference has come over the cypress trees! They have been artistically trimmed! Trimmed so you don't have to go out in a boat to see the sea. This has helped the unemployed much too. Carmel owes Mr. Seideneck a vote of thanks for his fine supervision of this work.

—Hugh Dormody, 4th grade.

THE SIDEWALKS OF CARMEL

Red, yellow, black and green, And the most dazzling sight you have ever seen!

That's the way with Carmel sidewalks. About a month ago the law was passed that no plain sidewalks could be made in Carmel. At that time they were putting in a sidewalk in front of the Episcopal Church. They at once arranged to have it in colors. Some people have criticized it for its brilliancy. We think the colors will soon fade and it will then harmonize better with the surroundings.

—John Plank, 4th grade.

HAVE HARD TIMES

ON OCEAN AVENUE

Suddenly I heard a great noise down the street. Running to the corner of Ocean and Dolores, I saw what had happened. Some nice lady had turned down from San Carlos, and, to the horror of Forest, so members of the Fourth grade think, since they visited the Forge this year. We enjoyed watching Mr. Catlin shape a buffalo head out of an old piece of iron. Many times he heated it to shape the horns, eyes, mouth and nostrils. Finally it was finished and presented to the Fourth Grade to keep in their room. In the tank where the hot iron is often cooled are little fish. In the shop are door-knockers, gates and many other things made of iron. From the door of this shop a nice view of the city park may be had.

—Katherine Quinn, 4th grade.

SHRINKAGE OF A REDWOOD

The following is an article taken from the "Journal of Forestry," April, 1933, by F. W. Haasis. The pamphlet tells about a study made with the aid of a dendrograph on a wind-dwarfed redwood several miles down the coast at a place called "Rocky Creek." It seems that this tree instead of growing has been decreasing in size. This was noticed at the height of one meter although leaves seemed to be forming higher up. The story of wind-dwarfed redwood is quite interestingly told.

—Barbara Haasis, 7th grade.

A TRY-OUT

A few days ago we went to the San Carlos Hotel with two friends. We went upstairs to a very large room where men were clearing away the remains of a committee dinner. We were the first people there to try for Irish boys. They wanted twenty-five of them because they were needed for the motion picture "Paddy, the Next Best Thing," with Janet Gaynor and Warner Baxter. They will use Point Lobis as a coast scene in Ireland. Donna Hodges has been chosen for a part in this picture. Many other children are hoping they also may be used.

the other motorists and pedestrians, was calmly driving down the wrong side of the road, thus causing the woman in the car ahead to jam on her brakes. There was a loud crash, and the cars connected fenders and had to be taken apart.

Guth, our traffic officer, was there in a minute, and soon settled the affair.

As Guth says, "Most of the accidents in Carmel are due to carelessness." This proved to be the case in the accident a few weeks ago, also. If the people of Carmel would learn the traffic rules and obey them, it would save Guth and Gus Englund much unnecessary labor.

THE ABALONE LEAGUE FINISHES ITS SEASON

One more season of that famed Carmel Baseball League is finished. This year the League was expanded from six to eight teams. Each Sunday four teams played at the Carmel field, and the other four down at the Point. I think every one will agree that this season was not so successful as the prior years. There will probably be a league of six teams next year. The champions of the League were that very strong team, the "Pilots."

Before the final game, the "Holy Grail" of the League—that very elusive cup—was brought out so everybody present could see the one and only trophy. The umpires this season did a very good job, when they happened to be looking.

There is a slight chance of another League being started very soon. We will welcome this, and I am sure we all hope the old timers can work up another series of games.

Forest Theatre Season Opens With "Pirates of Penzance"

For more than a month, Arthur Gunderson and a score of other people of importance in local dramatics have been tearing hair and pacing sidewalks in their anxiety over finding a suitable musical comedy with which to open the summer season at the Forest Theatre.

"Robin Hood" was the first opera that came under their consideration but to their disappointment they were unable to produce this because of the enormous royalty. Next "Iolanthe" of Gilbert and Sullivan was selected, but again an obstacle presented itself, for Mr. Gunderson was unable to find scores of the opera although he searched all available music stores.

Finally, the "Pirates of Penzance," one of the most popular of the Gilbert and Sullivan comic operas, was selected. This announcement will undoubtedly please Carmel's theatre-goers, since many people have expressed a desire to see this production on the Forest Theatre stage. Since it is somewhat on the order of "Pinafore," which proved such a success recently at the Community Playhouse, it is expected that "Pirates of Penzance" will be received with equal enthusiasm.

The dates for "The Pirates of Penzance" are July 1, 2 and 3. —Eugenia Fulton, 7th grade

SUMMER PROGRAM OF CARMEL MUSIC SOCIETY

The Carmel Music Society had many interesting activities during the past winter season. The president of the music society, Mrs. Henry F. Dickenson, and the directors of the society, had planned many interesting programs for the Carmel people to enjoy. The program for the winter season included concerts by the Vienna Boy Choir, cello concert by Michel Penha, a concert by the Monterey Peninsula Orchestra, and a concert by Austral, mezzo soprano, with Amadio the Flautist.

The coming summer is going to be a festival of concerts. There will be seven concerts. One will be given by the Pro Arte String quartet, which is considered the finest string quartet in the world. There will be three concerts of chamber music. The Monterey Peninsula Orchestra will give two concerts under the direction of Mr. Penha. There will be open rehearsals of the orchestra at the Denny-Watrous Gallery.

The Carmel Music Society is trying to keep the prices as low as possible so that many people will attend. We hope that the summer people from all over will attend some of these interesting concerts.

NOTED JURIST FRIEND OF YOUTH TALKS HERE

Judge Ben Lindsay of Denver, Colo., is to speak in Carmel at the Denny-Watrous gallery on the evening of Friday, June ninth. His topic will be "Youth and the Law."

Lindsay founded the Denver Juvenile and Family Relations Court. When a boy, he came to Denver to live. He has lived there most of his life. Instead of treating the boys and girls like criminals, he tried to make them realize that they had done wrong, and there was no point in doing wrong. He was so kind to children that many of them that had been put into jail for some reason came to him when they got out of jail. He would try to find a position for them and do whatever he could for them.

Because of some of his ideas, he was ousted from the position as Juvenile Judge. When he tried to become re-elected he found that none of the big political men would put him on their ticket. So he was forced to run independently for re-election. But in 1927 a certain state supreme court refused to recognize a certain precinct which had given him a tremendous majority.

On December 9th, 1929, the supreme court barred him from the Denver Juvenile and Family Relations Court of Denver, Colo.

Recently, Judge Lindsay spoke to the graduating class in Santa Maria.

Miss Barbara Kynaston of Carmel is spending her month's vacation in the Panama.

Many Dramatic Features Offered by Community Players

For a long time now the theaters of Carmel and the surrounding vicinity have been able to go to the Community Playhouse once each month to enjoy a performance given by the Carmel Players. Beginning with the "Firebrand" a number of plays were presented during the past season, plays of every type, and most of them very successful.

Perhaps the most popular plays presented were "Green Grow the Lilacs," with a cowboy cast and dealing with cowboys, and "Pinafore," a Gilbert and Sullivan opera, in which the fine voice of Mr. Ethridge was outstanding. The most recent production, "Broadway," has received much praise from all that saw it. "Broadway" was concerned with a New York night club and with New York gangsters in a thrilling plot.

Heading the list of unusual plays was "The Devil and the Cheese." It told of a monastery with bandit priests. The beginning was a scene to be long remembered. The lights were dim; the monastery bell could be heard; then out of the shadows a figure appeared, and then more. The priests were humming softly as they crossed the stage. The lights brightened with the coming of the morning.

"The Streets of New York" must not be left out. The scene in which snow was falling and one or two figures were huddled up against a bench was a very fine part of the play. "Ladies of the Jury" was the best comedy presented. The battle of one woman against the rest of the jury brought many laughs and much praise from the audience.

It can be seen from this brief outline, the Community Players have put on many different types of plays, and each time a different one. Now plans are being made for summer activities at the Forest Theatre. The season will open on July first. There will probably be three plays during the summer, one a musical play, another a Shakespearian play, and the third, a modern comedy.

COUNCILMAN JORDAN IS VERY BUSY MAN

At his desk in the Pine Inn, you will find a business-like man, attending to the affairs of his position as city councilman. John Jordan is head of the Police and Fire Department, and is also one of the council of five. Under his leadership, Leidig and Gus, heads of the two departments, take care of the people's property by saving it from fire and other destructive things. According to Mr. Jordan, the cause of fires is generally carelessness in the handling of fire; and carelessness also is the cause of accidents and disturbances that keep Gus and Guth busy day and night. Although there are only one or two things of any great importance to Jordan each week, there is enough to keep him busy, and I think we will agree that he does his work very well.

Fatal Accident With Rifle At Cabin in Highlands

About 9:30 o'clock Monday morning, a Mexican who worked on the San Simeon highway, trudged home, rifle in hand, to his cabin in the Highlands.

Frank DeAmaral, foreman at the Highlands Stables, heard a shot and found Artellan with a bullet in his head, and rushed him to the hospital in Carmel where he was treated by Dr. Dean Seabrook. The wound was fatal and Artellan passed away Monday night in the Carmel hospital.

According to Sheriff Abbott, who with Coroner J. A. Cornett, came from Salinas to investigate the affair was accidental, caused by Artellan's attempting to place his rifle in its place on the wall. The gun slipped and fell, buft end down to the floor, causing it to fire its charge. The bullet struck Artellan on the forehead and passed diagonally through his cerebellum, thus bringing Police throughout Southern California have joined in the search for the missing woman.

Mrs. Johns last week was rescued from drowning in the surf off Carmel beach and suffering ill health was being taken by her husband to visit a ranch belonging to relatives at El Paso.

At the depot in Los Angeles Orick Johns left his wife for a few minutes and on returning found her gone. Mrs. Johns left her wedding ring lying on top of her husband's hat and overcoat.

Mrs. Johns is the daughter of Mrs. George Blackman of Carmel.

PIANO RECITAL ENJOYED

In the lovely home of Mrs. Vera Peck Millis, an informal piano recital was held Sunday night. Mrs. Millis' daughters, Jane and Anne Millis, were the players at the piano. The home was lovely with the candles lighted all around the cozy living room. The two musicians played very nicely, much to the credit of Mary Ingels, their teacher. After the program there was an informal party, much to the pleasure of the many people of Carmel who attended.

GIVES PROGRAM OF HER ORIGINAL COMPOSITIONS

A large number of people attended the concert at the Country Club on Friday night, in which Elaine Lawson played original compositions for piano. A group of her songs were sung by Samuel Ethridge, with Mary Ingels at the piano; and a group of her violin numbers were played by Mrs. Mildred Wright, with Miss Lawson at the piano.

Elaine Lawson is seventeen years of age. She is pretty, attractive and girlishly simple, but mature in musical understanding. She has been composing for only a year, without knowing harmony or rules of composition, but producing many interesting and intricate works for the piano, and lately for other instruments and voice. She is not a virtuoso on the piano, but her touch is delicately lovely and she plays with understanding. She has composed many things in such a short time, she should surely be put in the genius class.

LEGION PRESENTS HONOR AWARDS TO STUDENTS

Each year the American Legion of Monterey Peninsula presents the American Legion School Award to two members of the graduating class from all Grammar Schools on the Peninsula, one a boy and the other a girl. This award is based on the candidate's school work and character. They are chosen by their classmates. This year, John Sheridan was chosen for the boys and Gertrude Toland for the girls. They are to be presented their awards this Friday evening, June second, at eight o'clock, at the American Legion Memorial Building in Monterey.

John Sheridan and Gertrude Toland have well earned their awards because they have been outstanding in their school work and outside activities.

DOGS ALREADY NOW FOR PENINSULA KENNEL SHOW

There will be great excitement and barking of dogs as you enter the Del Monte Dog show. Dogs will growl as though they would like to break loose and chase you for miles. But just walk past, as though you weren't frightened. Our reporter, Nancy Morrison, found for us the following information on the tenth annual dog show of the Del Monte Kennel Club, to be held on the grounds of the Del Monte Hotel on Sunday, June 4th.

Officers in charge of the club are S. F. B. Morse, president; Carl S. Stanley, T. C. Peterson, Mr. Kim Hollins, Miss Marion Kingsland, Mrs. Sidney Fish, Mrs. Halsted Yates, and Mr. Adolph

Hanke are members of the show committee. Judges for the show will be Miss Lydia Hopkins, judging all toy breeds; Miss Margaret Kilder, all terriers except airdale terriers and sealyham terriers; Paul Brazleton, chows; Mr. Victor Elsnor, pointers, English setters, Gordon setters, and group I; Mr. William Anthony Font, Boston terriers, bull dogs, French bulldogs, and group VI, Dr. Will L. Miles, airdale terriers; Mr. Andrew J. Scott, all others not assigned and groups II, III, and IV.

Dogs will come from San Francisco, Los Angeles, and many other places, over three hundred dogs in all. Forty or fifty of the dogs will be local, from Monterey and Carmel.

Everybody hopes to have a good time at the show. There is going to be a brass band, and a fifty-cent lunch. The show begins at ten thirty and will end at five.

SUNSET HEADS PENINSULA BASEBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

The boys of Sunset School have attained a truly enviable record in baseball, losing only one game in two years of competition in the Peninsula Grammar School Baseball League. The boys have played a consistently good and alert game of baseball. Good team work and team spirit are largely responsible for their fine showing.

John Sheridan, pitcher and acting captain, has shown unusual versatility in that he had control, speed, a good curve ball and keen baseball sense. He will be a fine high school prospect. Billy Turner overcame his dislike for baseball sufficiently to fill Bob Dalton's place as catcher and did it in fine fashion. Filling the first base position proved a problem until Harry Butts stepped into the gap. Louis Holtzhauer with his lively chatter at second base and timely hits proved reliable. Third base was filled satisfactorily by Rupert Kendall who was undoubtedly the fastest and flashiest player on the squad, yet very consistent. Rudolph Holtzhauer did not measure up to his former showing in hitting but played a good brand of ball at left field and as reserve pitcher. Earl Dorrance made up for his shortcomings with the bat by playing an errorless game in center field. Right field was occupied by players from the second string until Harrison Foster finally proved his right to claim the right field position. Although Harry Butts is the only veteran returning, Sunset will be near the top next year with such fine prospects as Brownell, Phillips, Frohli, Marble and Pelton coming up.

CARMEL DOLLARS TO

HAVE NEW USE

According to Barnet J. Segal, city treasurer and secretary of the Carmel Business Association, plans are being perfected whereby the "Carmel Dollar" will be accepted by the city in payment of taxes and licenses. It is believed that this will stimulate the movement of the "Dollar" and give it a shorter period of circulation, enabling the plan to be carried farther for unemployment relief.

Sunset School

The school serves the community by providing educational facilities, regular and wholesome employment of the child's time, and by assuming mutual responsibility with the parent in promoting the mental and physical welfare of the child.

Teachers are selected with the thought of procuring the best available teaching talent to cope with the varied problems confronting the child. The teachers are fortunate in having your support because they would be seriously handicapped if they were not permitted to think critically and deal openly with the children in considering individual, local, and national problems.

The schools rightfully command the first interest of the people. There is no other institution so close to the home and so vitally a part of our everyday life. The schools should be broadened and developed rather than retarded in their work. The failure of opponents of the schools in the last legislative session demonstrated that the people do not want the schools tampered with by demagogues. When the school people could point out that they had made a greater decrease in their budgets than the combined decrease in local and state government budgets in the state of California and that they would be willing to make further cuts when other agencies made corresponding reductions, the attacks on the schools subsided and the true feeling of the people of this state is rapidly coming to the fore in confirmation of the schools and in expression of desire to keep the schools as an institution of and for the people.

The school will live and flourish when you interest yourself in and support the school in your community. Carmel has been singularly fortunate in this respect. Parents and friends have shown an interest and devotion to the local public school that is most encouraging and stimulating to the pupils and faculty. Pertaining to public schools, President Franklin D. Roosevelt states: "Our schools need the appreciation and cooperation of all those who depend upon them for the education of our youth—the state's most valuable asset."

—O. W. B.

Appreciation of Carmel

The place for children, the place for a restful vacation; no busy city streets to keep you in constant fear of accidents; no noisy trains to spoil the quiet atmosphere; only the lull of the breakers against the white sand—a beautiful place for everyone. Carmel is also a splendid place to give children an education. Children have a chance to hear beautiful music, to see well-produced plays, and to learn of the arts. The graduating students wish to express their appreciation of the fact that Carmel has provided such an ideal school for them. We are sorry to be leaving Sunset School.

—Eleanor Butts, 8th grade

We all wish, I am sure, to thank Mother Nature for this beautiful spot in which we live. If it had not been for Her, there would not have been such a desirable (beautiful, restful, and healthy place as Carmel. I think Carmel would be the most desirable place to raise a child, because of the advantages we have here.

June

The hills are tapestried—
 Wild flower interwoven,
 The sun is high at noon.
 Blossoms are heavy,
 Binding the branches
 Roses opening for June.

Gold wheat in the meadows
 Where larks build their nests
 Chanting a merry tune
 To lupin, clover,
 And bright buttercups,
 Tinting the pathways of June.

The canyons are shadowed
 By fern fronds uncurled
 Silver the mellow moon!
 Jeweled rivers of stars,
 Flowing through the dusk
 Cryst'ling the nights for June.
 —Madeline McDonogh, 5th grade.

You toss great ships with your strong arms
 What care you what lives you harm!
 You rule the ships, whatever they do,
 But, oh rolling sea, God rules over you.

A Greater Land

What was it in this land of beauty
 That brought great men across the sea?
 What was the lure that drew our fathers
 To discover this land for you and me?
 And what is it, now, that causes us—
 Boys and girls of Sunset School—
 To strive for a still greater land
 In which to live, and learn, and rule?
 —Roger Fulton, 7th grade.

The Graduation Ship

The ship of graduation is nearing Sunset's port
 And the sailing time for the Eighth Grade is getting very short.
 Their diplomas are being sorted, and their costumes have been planned,
 And with anxious looks, the future by their parents is being scanned.
 We wish them luck, we wish them health, we wish them happiness.
 We wish them joy, we wish them wealth, and contentment and success.
 —Warren Johnston, 8th grade.

Memorial Day

Ah, what was that? It was the tramp of feet and the roll of the stirring drums!

Many years have passed since the great day when our men marched off to give their lives to make our country free. Now, when May 30th rolls around we recognize it as a day to hang gar-lands and flowers in memory of soldiers who died for a brave and just cause. Let us set this day aside from all others in a corner by itself.

We might be more patriotic if we knew something about Memorial or Decoration Day.
 This came from a custom in the South, when the people would decorate the graves of the dead Confederates. Today both the North and the South observe this day in memory of all people who died in wars for a righteous cause. And in Carmel, the students of Sunset School realize the significance of Memorial Day.

—Billy Wheeler, 7th grade

The Well Bounded Life

We, the students of Sunset School, wish in our early years to learn a sufficient amount to help us lead good lives when we grow up. Not satisfied with the "three r's" alone, we wish to go farther, enlarge upon these most basic forms of learning, to learn something of the arts, of our civilization today.

In our citizenship studies, we are learning this. We are learning something else too. We are becoming equipped with those elements called sportsmanship, honesty, good feeling, that help us so much, no matter what career we are later in life to choose. Sunset pupils are learning that good, work, fair play, and the right attitude, are the most valuable aids in leading a happy, well-rounded life.

What is a well-rounded life? Carmelites should certainly know. Putting the matter in a nutshell for those parents and friends who so interestedly watch us both in work and play: Sunset is trying to teach us to go at life with a purpose—holding some ideal in mind that will keep us from stopping at every danger in the path.
 Sunset wants us to go on after our brief school life and make ourselves into worthy citizens. In order to do this, we must develop mind, body, and spirit, for each of these factors will be of great importance through our entire lives.

Eugenia Fulton, 7th grade

Citizens of Tomorrow

The responsibility of Education assumes momentous proportions when we realize that through this medium are molded the Citizens of Tomorrow.
 In this light, our public schools go immeasurably beyond keeping the young occupied and out of mischief during the hours that parents pursue more gainful occupations. They must needs provide the laboratory and workshop wherein, conditioned by the human factor, our "raw material" may be scientifically analyzed as to potentiality;
 and treated on the basis of this analysis to produce the highest grade "finished product" for tomorrow.

Sunset School, basing its educational procedure upon modern scientific theory—tempered with practical usage—has as its ideal, the highest possible mental, physical, and cultural development of Carmel's children; the ultimate objective being preparation for worthy American citizenship.

—A. M. B.

PEOPLE TALKED ABOUT

When interviewed by Lee Van Atta, Helen Ware stated: "I have been requested by the young editors of this issue of the Pine Cone to say something about our community theatre. My recent and close association with that organization has proven conclusively to me that there is plenty of talent in Carmel. That talent, in most cases, is undeveloped and lacking in technique, which only experience can give. Actors are not made over night. There is plenty of enthusiasm among a few hard workers, but I should like to see that enthusiasm spread throughout the entire Peninsula, there would be more available talent at hand from which to choose the regular cast and understudies.

"The Community Theatre has become an institution in hundreds of cities all over the country. It is a splendid school of training for those who wish to 'try their wings,' not only for possible future professional use, but for the lasting success of the community theatre.

"I should like to see all those who are 'theatre' minded offer freely their services to play anything they are cast for, a leading part one week, and a 'bit' the next. As the great French actor, Coquelin, said: 'There are no small parts. There are only small actors.'"

Kathleen Parlow is the world's greatest woman violinist. Carmel will be greatly honored with the privilege of having Miss Parlow as our guest during the summer.

Kathleen Parlow was born in Calgary, Canada, and when she was six years old she made her first public appearance in San Francisco. During the years of Miss Parlow's unsurpassed performing, she has played in Japan, Java, China, Korea, the Philippines, Austria, Roumania, Bucharest, France, England, Scandinavia, Holland, Belgium and Hungary.

Kathleen Parlow is the head of the violin department in Mills College. She also has a studio in San Francisco where she teaches artist pupils. During the winter Carmel had the opportunity of hearing three of her pupils play with the Monterey Peninsula Orchestra, the last of these youthful musicians being Miss Marjorie Edwards.

—Camille Burnham, 7th grade.

Helen Cheney Brown, one of our Carmel artists, has done most of her work in water color. She has been to Europe four times and back, each time staying about two years. In her visits to France and Spain she painted some lovely scenes. Last summer Miss Brown did some pictures of Point Lobos, and other marine studies. These pictures may be seen at her home.

—Doris Crossman, 7th grade.

Miss Edda Maxwell Heath does most of her work in oil paint. She is from the east but she has been in Carmel for two years. Her first work was portrait painting, but she found it more interesting to do landscapes. Some of her most attractive pictures are "Hope Hastings," "An Autumn in the East" and "Mother and Child."

Miss Heath has decided she will specialize in baby pictures. She has done a little of this work before. Her very interesting art work may be seen in her studio on Casanova street in Carmel.

Miss M. De Neale Morgan who is one of Carmel's well known artists, has recently finished a picture of a California farm. This is done in oils, and it is very colorful—especially the California poppies which make up the main part of the picture. Last year Miss Morgan gave Sunset School a very colorful picture of Evangeline which she made while the set for the motion picture was at Point Lobos. This year she expects to do some sketches of the moving picture now being filmed.

help them in their study of music. Michel Penha will be director of the Peninsula Orchestra and the Chamber Music group during the summer.

—Doris Crossman.

Galt Bell is a man known to the public for reading plays, acting in, and directing them. He usually succeeds in directing them the way the public wants, but of course, you can't please all of the people all of the time.

I, for myself, liked "Green

Last year Miss Morgan gave Sunset School a very colorful picture of Evangeline which she made while the set for the motion picture was at Point Lobos. —Doris Crossman, 7th grade.

Mary Bulkley finds it very interesting to work with metal. She has made a number of rings with beautiful stones in the center. Some of these are shown at the Denny-Watrous Gallery.

Miss Bulkley also has done some beautiful pressed leather covers. One is a book cover for "The Trail of the Sand Hill Stag." This book was written by Ernest Thompson Seton. It has the design of the hoof of the "Sand Hill Stag."

—Patricia Thompson, 7th grade.

Michel Penha is a Hollander. for five years he played with the Philadelphia symphony as a 'cellist. He has also played with the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra. Mr. Penha has traveled all over Europe, playing in many different places. He has been all through South America as well as North America. Mr. Penha is returning to Carmel for the summer season. He will give a concert for children. He is interested in young 'cellists and will Grow the Lilacs" the best of any of his productions, because I saw the rehearsals and appreciated the patience with which Galt Bell directed the players. I realize that it was a very difficult task because there were so many inexperienced players, especially the cowboys who probably had never been on the stage before.

In the play "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" I think the children did very well under the direction of Mr. Bell and I know the boys and girls liked working with him for many told me so. Even now when he walks down the street, children come up to him and ask him when he is going to produce another play in which they can take part.

Right now Mr. Bell is in Los Angeles where he is thinking of producing "The Drunkard." I know if he does, he will make a success of it. All of his friends are hoping he will soon return to Carmel and give us more of his fine productions.

—Noris Thompson, 6th grade.

Mr. Ranald Cockburn, who is associated with Perry Newberry in publishing the "Pine Cone" first became interested in journalism when he was in High School at Menlo Park and in Junior College. He wrote a little story and they asked him to be feature editor of the school paper. From that position he worked up to be editor of the paper. He left school because of bad eyes due to a baseball accident. He became interested in the "Pine Cone" and later took half interest in the paper. While living in Honolulu he had experience on two daily newspapers.

Herbert Cerwin, of the Pine Cone staff, first became interested in newspaper work because he thought it was the easiest thing to do. He says: "I could neither speak English nor write. Of course that was a distinct advantage. I soon learned that newspaper work was not all that I had pictured. I did some of my work on various daily newspapers, in various metropolitan towns, and when I reformed I came to Carmel although I still have the stigma. I first read the Pine Cone eight years ago when Perry New-—Evelyn Cockburn, 6th grade.

A big thrill comes to everyone sometime. Mine came the other day when I interviewed Lincoln Steffens. I was received most cordially by Mr. Steffens. After a polite how-do-you-do, Mr. Steffens pushed a chair forward, I sat down, and began to take notes. Mr. Steffens stated his facts most clearly. I explained to him that the Sunset School was taking over one edition of the Pine Cone. He seemed most pleased with the idea. He said it was a very fine thing and that the younger generation should take over everything. Not only papers, but banks, peace conferences, etc. "Let the kids do it," is what Mr. Steffens would like. "The fact that we have too much machinery, too much food in the warehouses, too many unemployed, is due reason for letting someone else take charge. The generation of today has grown dull trying to think of new plans. The coming generation must find a new way for things, and it will." Mr. Steffens also said that education had been cut down tremendously to save expenses.

—Alla Osborne, 8th grade.

"GOING CARMEL"

It was not until we read a recent item in the "Pine Cone" that we really became serious in our intentions of finding out what was meant by "going Carmel." For the first time we began to take interest in this phrase, and we were soon assured that the statement which said it was mainly used by "foreigners to our community" was true. According to Mr. Josselyn's suggestion that school children write compositions on the subject, several students offer their interpretation of the phrase:

Mary Ann Leininger says: "When you go down a Carmel street you are liable to see a lady in men's trousers with her hair cut short, walking calmly along; or a man with long hair and a very long beard. Perhaps 'going Carmel' means being odd, like Carmel." Bob Farley writes:

"Going Carmel means that you are being 'different' from other people of other towns. Carmel is famed for its natural beauties. Therefore you become interested in protecting the natural beauties of Carmel. You protect the birds that protect the trees and sing to us so beautifully. You wear old shoes and clothes as you follow the narrow winding sidewalks of Carmel or stroll along the beach with your Scotty on the leash.

"Perhaps you delight in the Bohemian atmosphere of the village and go in for art in its various forms, for music or the drama. Perhaps you aspire to authorship or to become a poet! Carmel affords you just the right setting in which to develop your talents. Come on! Let's all 'go Carmel.'"

—Eugenia Fulton, 7th grade.

THE VILLAGE POSTOFFICE

Papers, advertisements, envelopes, and for that matter, every bit of rubbish imaginable, collects in our postoffice! Sunset students are quite concerned over the matter. Billy Wheeler asks the question: "Why, will you walk over to the wastebasket with their papers and deposit them therein?" And Barbara Humphrey says: "Folks may talk about the school children having paper and things on the school grounds, but really the post office is a sight after the shopping news and different things have been put in the boxes. People ought to have some consideration for the city they live in. The citizens will have to start to school again and learn about keeping things clean and neat."

One thing I don't understand is how all the little dachshunds and poodles and whatnots that also collect in the post office manage to make their way through the papers.

—Dick Tevis, 7th grade

KEEPING THE BEACH CLEAN

"Oh dear," says the city council, and "dear me" say the people trying to rent rooms on the strength of our beautiful beach. So please—boys and girls and dear visitors—keep the beach clean. The people of Carmel have enough worries with sidewalks, streets, the council, the school and its occupants. Following are some helpful remarks on the problem of keeping the beach clean:

Bill Welsh stresses the point that good citizens do not clutter up the beaches. I am afraid if we drew the line at that point, we would have very few good citizens, from the looks of the beach. Ethel Warrington says that Carmel has a very lovely beach, but very few people really appreciate it. They have beach parties and such things and fail to put the papers in the incinerators. Mary Ann Leininger says: "It seems that visitors have been coming to Carmel and cluttering the beach with papers and cans. We have such a lovely beach, let's try to instruct visitors to keep it that way."

Dick Tevis writes: "It's surprising the amount of rubbish and seaweed that collects on the beautiful Carmel beach. The Carmel beach is so lovely, that something ought to be done to keep it clean at all times."

Betty Rae Sutton, 8th grade

Friday, June 2, the St. Anne's Guild will hold a Garden Fete at "Casa Querida" on San Antonio street, at Ninth, between the hours of two and five. Refreshments will be served and during the afternoon singing, dancing and side-shows will be the events of the day.

THE VILLAGE NEWS-REEL

Mr. Henry J. Fuller arrived in Carmel on Monday. He is visiting for a week or so at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Dawson.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Wishart and daughter, Margaret, went to San Francisco last Friday, returning the same day.

Mrs. Hugh Dormody returned to Carmel last week after a week's stay in Los Angeles.

The E. J. Jimenez family expect to visit the World's Fair in Chicago this summer.

Fenton Foster's Glee Club of Carmel sang at the Del Monte Hotel on Friday evening of last week. They will sing at the Pine Inn on Friday evening June 2.

What Makes the Wheels Go Round

Student Reporters Study Problem

As newspaper reporters of Sunset School, many of us were inquisitive as to just what made the wheels of Carmel's business and government go around, and what has kept the village from becoming a modern type of town. Upon inquiry we found that the governing element is made up of a few of our prominent Carmelites who have been connected with civic matters for many years. We found them to be typical citizens of our community, enjoying their task of keeping Carmel a quaint and interesting town.

I met Mayor John Catlin as he was coming out from behind his desk. "What are you reporters from Sunset School?" he asked. I nodded. Then began my interview. Upon being asked about the item of most importance, he answered that the "licensing of beer in hotels and restaurants is the most important question before the City Council now. Of course, all through the year there have been problems of drastic economy. The council is very much concerned with keeping a balanced budget for next year."

"Carmel differs from other cities in many ways," Mr. Catlin said. "She is a city of the lowest or sixth class. She is independent and her laws are made and voted upon by the council of five, at the head of which is the mayor. Each member of the council has a certain section of the government for which he is responsible. With a slight increase in population we will be able to apply for a city charter."

Herbert Heron, the dramatic member of our council, has always would you believe it—of the light and water division of Carmel. He has very little to do in connection with this as the public utility companies can pretty well take care of it themselves, and his main duties in connection with the council are those of voting, rather than those in connection with his particular position.

Miss Clara Kellogg is the commissioner of Carmel streets. She has charge of oiling and sprinkling them, as well as of planting the trees that beautify the streets so much. In this time of year she does a great part of her work as little can be done during the rainy winters. She has succeeded in cutting down the expense of her department this year, as the unemployment commission supplies her with many of her men. In this connection, Miss Kellogg says: "The employment program offers a great opportunity to the street department and at the same time presents some problems. It is important that all work done by the unemployed men shall be of permanent value to the city. At the same time the cost of materials must be kept low. And moreover, the regular street work must go on smoothly in spite of the innovation. All of this makes the commissioner of streets a busy person."

Another councilman, Mr. Robert Norton, gave us quite an interesting interview on his early life in Carmel. He lived here in 1906 and went to school in the old wooden school house, which then consisted only of one class under the leadership of Mr. Sax. At the time when Norton went to school, there was no physical training. The boys played at spear battles and dammed up the river east of the school house. There was a great deal of fun at the school for many of the boys were much older than Norton and they made the games quite interesting. Then too there were Japanese and Chinese children from Point Lobos fisheries, and many Indian boys in Carmel. Although we learned that Mr. John Jordan is an important member of the city council, he was so busy we were unable to secure an interview with him.

—Eugenia Futon, 7th grade.

POLICE JUDGE WOOD

As the other reporters of Sunset seemed very busy with members of the city council, chief of police, fire chief, and the like, I felt it would not be out of the point to have a talk with Police Judge Wood. I did so. When I first looked at him it was hard to believe that he was the stern commander of Carmel law-breakers. However, when he began his talk, in earnest, I realized how solemn and impartial he really was.

I learned that he had been in Carmel since 1920, yet he has only been police judge since last July. He told me it was his duty to see that the laws of the city and state were fairly and justly applied to everyone. It was also his duty to interpret the law as applied to criminals. He said, too, that the children of Carmel caused very little trouble as they respected the laws of the city.

As I left his office, he returned to his duties, leaving me with high thoughts of his worthiness in connection with his position. —Lee Van Atta and Eugenia Futon.

OUR FIRE DEPARTMENT

Well, well, well, even Carmel's firemen go to school! Classes for the firemen are held the second and fourth Thursdays of each month. They study different phases of fire fighting. Chief Leidig and the fire department are grateful to the teachers and pupils of Sunset School for their help in preventing fires.

Mr. Leidig said that there is an average of one fire a minute in the United States. Fifty per cent of the people killed in fires are children under the age of ten. Seventy-five per cent are women and children.

There are twenty-six members of the volunteer fire department, a chief, two assistant chiefs, and two captains. Fifteen members have dress uniforms. They have three trucks: a Mack which pumps 300 gallons, and a Ford Salvage and Rescue truck.

Mr. Leidig invites anyone to visit the fire house to learn how the engines work. He urges you to help prevent fires.

—Tommy Phillips, 7th grade.

WHOOPS! VACATION!

Readin' and Writin' and 'Rith-metic days are almost over! Camping, boating, picnicking, and all the rest of the sports will soon take new life. Soon the beaches will again ring with the joyous laughter of many, many happy children. Jane Haskell says: "We will have three long months and a little more to play and help our parents. Mothers will heave a sigh of relief when school finally begins!"

—Dick Tevis, 7th grade.
